Architectural Accessibility

Architectural accessibility of the buildings of the I.J. Paderewski Academy of Music in Poznań

The Academy of Music is headquartered in a complex of three buildings and a Student House in another location.

1. The lecture building at ul. Św. Marcin 87 is a three-story building that has 3 entrances: one main entrance and one technical entrance at the ground level from Plac S. Stuligrosza and an entrance from ul. Skośna. The main entrance to the building has a heated ramp for wheelchairs. The building has an elevator for the disabled. There is a toilet for the disabled on the first floor. On the entrance doors to lecture and utility rooms used by people with special needs there are placards in Braille, and these include halls, dean's offices, the rector's office, exits to the courtyard, and utility rooms.

2. The historic building at ul. Św. Marcin 87 / ul. Skośna is a three-story building that has 4 entrances to individual staircases from the inner courtyard, i.e. A1, A2, B, and C. There is no wheelchair ramp to the entrance staircases A1, A2, and C. The building has no elevator, except for staircase B. The entrance to staircase B is from the sidewalk level and provides wheelchair access to the library. The north wing with staircases A1 and A2 is connected to the lecture building which provides access for the disabled, except for the 3rd floor. There is no toilet for the disabled. The building is listed in the Register of Historic Monuments under No. A 275.

3. The Aula Nova Building at ul. Św. Marcin 87/ Plac S. Stuligrosza is a four-story building that has 2 entrances from the sidewalk level. Inside there is an elevator and a ramp for wheelchair users. A toilet for the disabled is located on the ground level.
