

Davit Khrikuli – Piano

Georgian pianist Davit Khrikuli has rapidly emerged as one of the most distinctive young voices of his generation. After winning his first international piano competition in the Netherlands at the age of eleven, he soon began to attract international attention for his natural musicality, poetic imagination, and technical mastery.

Davit has been a prizewinner and special award recipient at numerous international competitions across Georgia, Russia, the Netherlands, Denmark, Kazakhstan, China, the United States, Italy, and Spain. His artistry has been featured in solo recitals, chamber collaborations, and concerto performances with orchestras such as the Georgian Philharmonic Orchestra, the Israel Camerata, the Israel Philharmonic, and the Moscow Philharmonic, among others.

He has performed with distinguished chamber ensembles including the Pablo Casals State Quartet, and he maintains a long-standing artistic friendship with the Sulkhan Tsintsadze State Quartet in Tbilisi. Davit has also benefited from the mentorship of leading pianists and pedagogues, among them Elisabeth Leonskaja, Rena Shereshevskaya, and Nelson Goerner.

In 2024, he won both the First Prize and Special Prize at the Cantu International Piano and Orchestra Competition, as well as the First Prize and Audience Prize at the Vigo Piano City International Competition, where the jury included Martha Argerich, Cyprien Katsaris, and other renowned artists.

Born in Tbilisi, Georgia, in 2001, Davit began his musical education at the age of eight. His early mentors included Daredjan Tsintsadze, Revaz Tavadze, and Galina Eguiazarova. He is currently continuing his studies at the Reina Sofía School of Music in Madrid under the guidance of Prof. Stanislav Ioudenitch.

A finalist of the International Chopin Piano Competition, Davit became one of the audience's favourites worldwide for his expressive depth, refinement of tone, and captivating stage presence.
