Prof. dr hab. Hanna Kostrzevska
Head of the Faculty of the Theory of Music
The I. J. Paderewski Academy of Music in Poznań

Poznań, 2nd November 2016

On behalf of the Faculty of the Theory of Music at the I. J. Paderewski Academy of Music in Poznań I would like to invite you to participate in the 14th International Conference from the series “Musica Practica, Musica Theoretica” – The music of the past in the postmodern world to be held on 4th–5th April 2017 in our Academy’s Presidential Hall.

The conference shall concentrate on issues referring to a musical work and various relations between artistic and composing theory and practice. This time, it will refer to how musical past functions in a postmodern world considering the whole vagueness and indefiniteness of the postmodern stage. The focus of the meeting will be in particular on:

- the music of past ages as a source of postmodern games (using musical tradition in the form of metatexts, citations, stylizations etc.),
- spaces of the past of musical culture and a „new past” – cultural changes in the perception (reception and evaluation) of the music of past eras,
- musical ways of commemorating the achievements of past generations,
- knowledge of the history of musical culture as a source of inspiration/pre-text of the contemporary musical creativity,
- a contemporary musical work – analysis and interpretation in the perspective of the music of the past,
- musical tradition and the generation of „digital natives” – methods of explaining and interpreting facts of musical culture,
- musical traditions as a subject of contemporary reflection on music.

The lecture, including musical excerpts, should not exceed 20 minutes. The conference shall be held in Polish and English. A paper delivered in Polish should
